

Scarlet Alliance Migration Working Party presents

Globalised Sex Work²

This unique annual forum, spanning sex work in developed and developing countries will give participants greater insight into contemporary human rights, migration and labour issues for sex workers. This is a rare chance to gain an understanding of effective sex worker projects, to hear about health promotion and its application in regards to sex work, service delivery to migrant sex workers locally and regionally, and the partnership work of Australian sex worker peer organisations and those in developing countries. Become a leader in your sector by developing a first hand understanding of global sex worker issues.

The agenda includes:

- o Capacity development in the Asia Pacific region: Sex workers' leading the successful development of appropriate programs and services.
- o Sex worker rights and global issues panel:
 - "Swedish model" demand reduction: How it fails sex workers
 - Trafficking measures and the deterioration of sex worker rights
 - International policy development and the silencing of sex workers

The agenda includes:

- o Mapping the work of the Scarlet Alliance Migration Working Party
- o An evidence based, culturally sensitive health promotion approach to working with Korean and Chinese sex workers in Australia
- o Migration of Chinese sex workers: Contemporary research outcomes and possible directions for program work
- o Thai sex workers at home and abroad: Sex worker health promotion programs in NSW, and successful linking with Empower, Thailand.

Who should attend?

women's and migrant service providers,
sex worker service providers, health educators,
development workers, policy makers, members of the community.

Wed 16 April
10.30am - 3pm
$77
lunch included

Photo: Thai sex workers protest at the 2004 International AIDS Conference in Bangkok. Themes of the sex worker speakers at the conference included Migration Rights and access to HIV medicine. Photo by Janelle Fawkes.

Venue: Albion Street Centre, 349 Crown Street, Surry Hills
RSVP: 9326 9455 or info@scarletalliance.org.au